Date: Mon, 10 Jun 1996 08:37:32 -0700
From: Jim Barksdale <jimb@netscape.com>
Reply-To: jimb@netscape.com
Organization: Netscape Communications
MIME-Version: 1.0
To: Joe Willmann <joew@mdhost.cse.tek.com>
Subject: Re: Microsoft Internet explorer

CONFIDENTIAL

REDACTED

Joe,

Thank you for the 'heads up'. All the best! We'll keep pushing at our end.

Joe Willmann wrote:
>
> I am sure you get lots of unsolicited mail but I ran across > something that I think you should be interested in.
>
> The latest release of Microsoft Developers Network "Requires" > the presence of Microsoft Internet explorer to be fully > functional.
>
> It will not use you favorite browser.
>
> By REQUIREING that all software developers have IE on their > system to access all of the technical specifications needed to > develop windows software seems to be blatent restraint of trade.
>
> Anyway I thought you might like to know.
>
> Joe Willmann
> My opinions are my own, not the company I work for.

HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL

GOVERNMENT EXHIBIT 238
PENGAD-Bayonne, N.J.

NSC001967