CONFIDENTIAL

Subject: MS ISDN Pack Info
Date: Sun, 30 Jun 1996 23:02:38 -0700
From: John Freeborg <johnf@netscape.com>
Organization: Netscape Communications Corp.
To: Julie Herendeen <julieh@netscape.com>, daver@netscape.com, pmarca@netscape.com

REDACTED

I'm on Microsoft's ISP mailing list - I made up a company awhile back and gave them my home address.

I received on Friday a packet which touts "The Microsoft ISDN Accelerator Pack is available to distribute royalty-free." All the ISP has to do is sign and return the form. Licensing the ISDN accelerator pack requires the ISP to also use IE as the "preferred web browser", issue a press release announcing the licensing, use the IE logo all over, etc.

This is exactly the same code we tried to license back in April and were told flat out "no" unless we were an ISDN modem manufacturer!

- John

John Freeborg
Netscape Communications
501 E. Middlefield Rd.
Mountain View, CA 94043

Product Manager
johnf@netscape.com
voice (415) 937-3091
fax (415) 937-4120

HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL

NSC005813

GOVERNMENT EXHIBIT 239
HENGAD-Bayonne, N. J.

HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL