Office of Defense Trade Controls Customer Satisfaction Survey

The Office of Defense Trade Controls (DTC) and its modern day predecessors have administered control of international arms traffic since the 1930's. Our experience suggests that—even while dealing with resource constraints and reductions—services might be improved by determining what industry considers to be critical, promoting innovation in streamlining processes and restructuring resource allocations, and evaluating performance with realistic goals and standards.

Based on public sector response and some introspection, DTC developed a Customer Service Plan, that was officially published in a 1994 report by the National Performance Review, "Putting Customers First: Standards for Servicing the American People," and has since been otherwise widely disseminated. In May 1996 we requested a private sector appraisal of the standards and DTC's performance in relation to them. Our analysis of the findings were published in a September 1996 Special Edition of DTN.

We want to ensure that the DTC Customer Service Plan reflects the issues that matter to our private industry customers and helps us improve our service. Therefore, you are encouraged to participate in the survey that follows. ♦

DTC's Customer Service Plan

Commitment to Our Customers

In accordance with the Administration's National Performance Review, all Federal agencies that provide significant services directly to the public are required to publish a customer service plan.

The plan below explains DTC's mission, services DTC provides, and DTC's commitment to quality. As a part of our continuing effort to provide quality service, DTC will periodically survey the community it serves.

Our Mission

The Office of Defense Trade Controls, in accordance with Sections 38-40 of the Arms Export Control Act (AECA or 22 U.S.C. 2778) and the International Traffic in Arms Regulations (ITAR), controls the permanent and temporary export and temporary import of defense articles and defense services by taking final action on license applications and other requests for approval for defense trade exports and retransfers, and handling matters related to defense trade compliance, enforcement and reporting.

Service to Customers

In order to promote world peace, further U.S. foreign policy and national security interests, and facilitate legitimate export of commodities and services covered by the U.S. Munitions List and to facilitate the best customer service possible DTC is committed to:

- Providing timely, professional, knowledgeable, and courteous service to customers seeking guidance on registration, making applications for a defense export license or other approvals, requesting the status of specific licensing cases, or seeking guidance regarding compliance with export law and regulations.
- Taking initial action on all license applications (approve, disapprove, return without action, or coordinate with other offices) within 10 working days of receipt.
- Informing each registered individual and company with timely information on the status of their license application. For persons who do not have electronic access to the DTC (system) timely telephone responses are provided. Telephone inquiries are responded to by a responsible officer within 24 hours of receipt.
- Providing timely and authoritative guidance to the U.S. defense industry regarding export policies, procedures, and practices, based on interpretation of the International Traffic in Arms Regulations (ITAR), the Arms Export Control Act (AECA) and other pertinent laws, national interests, and multinational agreements or arrangements. This includes the presentation of and participation in organized seminars, in house training, and other public outreach efforts, such as the Defense Trade News.
- Enhancing automated data processing to facilitate the electronic handling of requests for licenses and other approvals and to increase responsiveness to U.S. government requests for assistance.
- Ensuring proper compliance with U.S. regulations, effective investigative and prosecutorial enforcement actions, as well as administrative procedural follow-up against violators of the AECA and the ITAR.
- Surveying customer satisfaction periodically to solicit suggestions for improving DTC services.

Commitment to Quality

The Office of Defense Trade Controls recognizes its responsibility to the American public and other governmental offices to provide the finest service possible at all times. As part of DTC's quest for improvement, the office uses an analytical approach, with statistical methods and other problemsolving tools, to accomplish its licensing and compliance missions.
