High control mortalities occurred in all except one test reported by Sauter et al. (1976). Control mortality exceeded 10% in one test by Mount and Norberg (1984). Pilgaard et al. (1994) studied interactions of copper and hypoxia, but failed to run a hypoxic control. Beaumont et al. (1995a,b) studied interactions of temperature, acid pH and copper, but never separated pH and copper effects. The 96-hour values reported by Buikema et al. (1974a,b) were subject to error because of possible reproductive interactions (Buikema et al. 1977).

Anderson (1994), Anderson et al. (1994), Viarengo et al. (1993), and Zaroogian et al. (1992) reported on in vitro exposure effects. Benedeczky et al. (1991) studied only effects of injected copper. Ferrando et al. (1993b) studied population effects of copper and cladoceran predator on the rotifer prey, but the data are difficult to interpret. A similar problem complicated use of the cladoceran competition study of LeBlanc (1985).
