THE INDIAN READING SERIES: Stories and Legends of the Northwest is a collection of authentic material cooperatively developed by Indian people from twelve reservations. Development activities are guided by a Policy Board which represents the Indian community of the Pacific Northwest. The Pacific Northwest Indian Reading and Language Development Program Policy Board members are:

- Warren Clements — Warm Springs
  Chairman
- Clement Azure — Devils Lake Sioux
- Walter Moffett — Nez Perce
- Emmett Oliver — Quinault
- Bob Parsley — Chippewa
- Lloyd Smith — Warm Springs
- Max Snow
- Jeanne Thomas — Yakima
This work has not as yet been published and is afforded all protections under the U.S. Copyright Law (P.L. 94-553) effective January 1, 1978.

Copyright in the published edition will be held by and in the name of the Assiniboine and Gros Ventre Tribes of the Fort Belknap Reservation.

No part of this work may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transcribed, in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording, or otherwise without the prior written permission of the author agency identified below.

The project presented or reported herein was performed pursuant to a grant from the National Institute of Education, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. However, the opinions expressed herein do not necessarily reflect the position or policy of the National Institute of Education, and no official endorsement by the National Institute of Education should be inferred.

Northwest Regional Educational Laboratory
710 S.W. Second Avenue
Portland, Oregon 97204
Dedicated to Raymond T. Gone, Sr.
Long ago when He-Flys-Alone’s Grandfather was alive, the Gros Ventre were living in Canada. One day seven men decided to go on a war trail in search of enemies. They left the camp on foot and after a time came to the Sweet Grass Hills. Here, they saw much dust in the air and soon saw big herds of buffalo coming to the hills. Soon all the buffalo disappeared into a hole in the side of one of the hills.
The men went to investigate and found the hole that the buffalo had gone into. One man said, "Friends, we have been gone a long time and our people will think we have been killed. Let us look into this place where the buffalo went." All the men agreed. They took off their clothing and tied themselves together with rawhide rope. They left their guns with their clothes but took the ramrods to feel their way in the dark.
The men entered the cave walking as fast as they could, feeling their way with their ramrods. Some of them stumbled over piles of buffalo chips that covered the ground. After traveling a long way through the cave, they saw daylight and stopped. Not knowing what to do, and after a short talk, they decided to go on. Soon they came out in the daylight.
There were many buffalo trails leading in different directions. The men saw a river, trees and a lone lodge. In another direction, they saw a big camp of many lodges. This was beautiful country! One of the men wanted to visit the lone lodge but the rest were unwilling because they did not have their guns with them. They turned back and went into the cave and ran all the way back to the entrance. When they got out into the sunlight, they noticed that the sun was about half way between rising and noon. The sun was in the same place as when they had first entered the cave! They continued on their war trail.
That night one of the men, whose name was Chief Mountain, had a dream. He dreamed the owner of the lone lodge came to him and said, "I am sorry that you did not come to visit me. I will pity you and give you power and you will be great. If you are killed and want to return to life, have your friends paint your body yellow with black dots from the waist up. They must also point your head to the west and cover you with a buffalo robe. This robe should be one that has the head attached. They will place a black pipe on your chest, with the stem pointing in the same direction as your head. Then your friends must sing a certain song four times. After each song they will say, "Chief Mountain, it is time for you to get up and smoke." Even if you are badly cut up, this will bring you to life.
All the Gros Ventre knew about this dream.

Once, Chief Mountain was in a fight and was riddled with bullets and arrows. He was killed and his friends used him as a shield to hide behind. Two of his sons were present at this fight. After the fight was over, they decided to try out his power.
The sons did exactly as the dream instructed. After the last song, Chief Mountain stretched and made a sound as one who is just waking up. He sat up, took the pipe and lit it and was recovered. Chief Mountain lived to be an old man.
When He-Flys-Alone was a boy, Chief Mountain took him on a walk along a river. He-Flys-Alone led the way. On the trail was a dry, bare, cottonwood log and when Chief Mountain stepped over this log, he died. To step over such a log was the only thing that he was not supposed to do. He-Flys-Alone did not know about this.
Two of Chief Mountain's sons wanted to try his medicine again, but the third son did not wish to. He thought this because Chief Mountain was so old. His face was wrinkled, he could not see very well, and most of his teeth were gone. So they did not try. Many people wondered if he would come back to life again.
Booklets available in the Level IV sequence are listed below. Numbers refer to the Planned Sequence of use in the Teacher's Manual. Materials developed by these tribes and others in the Northwest are included in the Levels I, II and III sequences.

1. Warm Springs Animal Stories
   The Confederated Tribes of the Warm Springs Reservation of Oregon

2. Snail Women at Sq’a’le
   The Suquamish Tribe of the Port Madison Reservation

3. Blue Jay – Star Child/Basket Woman
   Muckleshoot Tribe

4. Assiniboine Woman Making Grease
   Assiniboine Tribe of the Fort Peck Reservation

5. Coyote
   The Confederated Tribes of the Warm Springs Reservation of Oregon

6. How the Summer Season Came
   Assiniboine Tribe of the Fort Belknap Reservation

7. Little Weasel’s Dream
   Salish and Kootenai Tribes of the Flathead Reservation

8. Fort Hall Stories
   Shoshone-Bannock Tribes of the Fort Hall Reservation

9. The Bear Tepee
   Northern Cheyenne Tribe

10. Sioux Stories and Legends
    Sioux Tribe of the Fort Peck Reservation

11. Kootenai Stories
    Salish and Kootenai Tribes of the Flathead Reservation

12. Chief Mountain’s Medicine
    Gros Ventre Tribe from the Fort Belknap Reservation

13. Coyote the Trickster
    Burns Paiute Reservation

14. Running Free
    Shoalwater Bay

15. Salish Coyote Stories
    Salish and Kootenai Tribes of the Flathead Reservation

16. Coyote and the Cowboys
    Shoshone-Bannock Tribes of the Fort Hall Reservation

17. Napi’s Journey
    Blackfeet Tribe

18. Warm Springs Stories
    The Confederated Tribes of the Warm Springs Reservation of Oregon

19. Tepee Making
    Salish and Kootenai Tribes of the Flathead Reservation

20. Baskets and Canoes
    Skokomish Tribe

21. Warrior People
    Blackfeet Tribe