The Benefits of USCIS ELIS

Introduction

U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) is moving from a paper-based model to a secure, online environment. On May 22, we launched the foundational release of our new system, named the USCIS Electronic Immigration System (USCIS ELIS).

The Benefits

USCIS ELIS is a streamlined online account-based system that enhances customer service and the quality of our processes by enabling USCIS adjudicators to decide requests for immigration benefits online by accessing information submitted by the customer. Through USCIS ELIS, customers can view their benefit requests, receive electronic notification of decisions, and receive real-time case status updates. These improvements result in more complete, accurate and timely responses to customer requests.

The initial launch of USCIS ELIS included account setup and case management functions supporting the intake and adjudication of immigration benefits. Applicants are currently able to electronically file select categories of Form, I-539, Application to Extend or Change Nonimmigrant Status. USCIS will gradually expand USCIS ELIS to include more features, functions, and form types.

Similar to online banking, customer accounts provide a single electronic mechanism for submitting information and managing benefit requests.

USCIS ELIS includes features such as:
- A 24/7 online portal, allowing applicants a convenient and secure way to set-up and manage their account and submit and track their applications;
- Benefit requests and supporting documents can be submitted electronically;
- Applicants and representatives can submit payment electronically; and
- More specific and timely case status information can be accessed online.
