A MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

As the President of the National Wildlife Federation, I am privileged to work with thousands of dedicated volunteers and employees committed to protecting America's wildlife and wild lands. Together, we strive to ensure that every American has the opportunity to experience the wonder and beauty of the natural world. Our work is guided by the principles of conservation, education, and advocacy. We believe that a healthy environment is essential for the well-being of all Americans.

We are facing challenges like never before. Climate change, habitat loss, and pollution are threatening the health of our wildlife and wild lands. But there is hope. By working together, we can make a difference. We can protect and restore habitats, support sustainable practices, and ensure that future generations will have the chance to experience the wonder of nature.

As we look towards the future, we must continue to be innovative and responsive to the needs of our members and the communities we serve. We must remain committed to our mission and our vision for a healthy and prosperous America. Together, we can make a difference. Together, we can protect the wildlife and wild lands that are the foundation of our nation.

Sincerely,

Puffins to the largest penguins at rear ends are featured in the Icons series. Each project comes in a set of 2048 iconographic cards, covering the wildlife, nature, and culture of each location. The cards are designed to be used in conjunction with a corresponding guidebook, as well as in a series of interactive displays and educational programs.

The series is divided into four main categories: A) shelter for wildlife, B) nature and culture, C) literacy and education, and D) conservation and sustainability. Each category contains a series of cards, each featuring a different icon, accompanied by a brief description of the site and its significance.

The project is a collaborative effort between several organizations, including the National Geographic Society, the World Wildlife Fund, and the International Union for Conservation of Nature. It is supported by a variety of funding sources, including grants from foundations and corporations, as well as contributions from individuals and communities.

The cards are available for purchase online and in stores, and can be used as a resource for educators, researchers, and anyone interested in learning more about the world's natural and cultural heritage.
