Re: Dr. Oliver Brooke - Birthweight Studies

Enclosed for your information is a report covering the first year of the birthweight studies. I have recently visited Drs. Brooke, Anderson and Stewart who tell me that the collection of data is progressing to a point where they expect to provide (without particularly detailed analysis) substantial amounts to us in late January. Dr. Ford of the CTR plans to review that material prior to meeting with the project team in mid February. It is then contemplated that we would be in a position to have enough material to evaluate progress and potential next steps by some time in April or May.
