Re: Dr. Arthur Furst

I have mentioned on one or two occasions that Dr. Arthur Furst needs certain equipment in order to help stay abreast of smoking and health developments. The equipment he has in mind would probably cost about $5-6000. Dr. Furst continues to express interest in becoming a consultant as soon as he has more time available. I estimate that the consultancy would run in the neighborhood of $25,000 a year plus, perhaps, secretarial help. I anticipate that Dr. Furst would assist in literature reviews, recommend research projects, review research projects as necessary, prepare advisory papers on topics of interest and the like.

This would be a Special 4 venture. I have nothing specific to propose but would appreciate your agreement in principle to what I have outlined.

Best personal regards.

Sincerely,

William W. Shinn
