Gentlemen:

The research advisory group chaired by Ernie Popples has asked Alex Spears and me to explore potential research areas of interest for discussion with the group.

Alex has suggested, and I concur, that Murray Senkus be employed as a consultant. He would be primarily engaged, at least initially, in assisting Alex Spears to carry out the committee's charge.

I propose a Special 4 project to fund a contract for consultancy services between Shook, Hardy & Bacon and Murray Senkus. The term of the contract would be one year and the compensation would be $2,500 per month plus expenses with an understanding that Dr. Senkus would make one-half of his time available.

At the present time, Dr. Senkus has an arrangement with Covington & Burling which calls for one-half of his time and provides a fee of $2,500 per month plus expenses. John Rupp is sending me a copy of the letter contract between Covington & Burling and Dr. Senkus.

I have discussed this generally with Arthur, Ernie and Max. All of them have indicated that they favor such a proposal.
