Fire & Emergency Response Services
Training Packages
Training Packages
for your
Fire and Emergency Response Services Classroom

The course packages described in this catalog offer you the most comprehensive selection of EMS and firefighting training material from the National Fire Academy, the Federal Aviation Administration, other federal agencies, and the Emergency Film Group and Mike Pickett Productions.

National Fire Academy Courses

The majority of courses in this brochure were produced by the NFA. Use these courses as outlined, adapt them to include your own materials, or divide them into minicourses. NFA courses are field tested across the nation for at least two years — validated, refined, modified, improved and reviewed — to assure that course content and design are effective and accurate.

Other Specialized Courses

Poorly fitted respirators can kill you. Training Materials for OSHA’s Respiratory Protection Standard 29 CFR 1910.134 from the Occupational Safety and Health Administration will help you make sure all your respirators will work as they should when they’re needed — see page 17.

For fighting fires and fire safety at airports we offer programs produced by the Federal Aviation Administration — see page 19.

We have expanded the Response to Terrorism section with a number of Chemical and Biological casualties videos from the Department of Defense — see pages 11 – 15.

We are also offering several new series of useful programs from the Emergency Film Group and Mike Pickett Productions.

Organization for Hazmat Emergencies: A Series

Emergency Film Group

Three programs, also available separately (see below), teach local emergency planning committees and industry how to work together to prepare for hazmat incidents in their communities.

Order no.: AVA20764V030CGL, 3 VHS programs, 1997, $495

Hazards Analysis
Order no.: AVA20765VNB1CGL, 28 min. VHS, 1997, $195

The Emergency Plan
Order no.: AVA20766VNB1CGL, 22 min. VHS, 1997, $195

Exercises
Order no.: AVA20767VNB1CGL, 29 min. VHS, 1997, $195

Petroleum Storage Tanks

Emergency Film Group

Shows how to handle petroleum storage tank leaks, vapors, and fires, and how to use foam.

Order no.: AVA20768VNB1CGL, 29 min. VHS and 163-page textbook, 1996, $425

National Fire Academy

A three-hour course designed for the participant to develop basic skills to identify hazardous materials’ presence and to identify the specific hazardous materials and associated hazard characteristics.

Order no.: AVA19203SS00CGL, 277 slides, 46-minute audiocassette, 87-page instructor guide which includes 64-page student manual reproducible master, 1992, $170

Order no.: AVA19204BB00CGL, Set of 10 student manuals, $100

Trucking Hazardous Materials

Emergency Film Group

Explains how to recognize and handle hazmats, DoT hazard classes, shipping papers, and emergency response.

Order no.: AVA20771VNB1CGL, 24 min. VHS and 48-page leader’s guide, 1993, $245

Understanding MSDS

Emergency Film Group

Explains how to fill out and use the Material Safety Data Sheet for hazardous materials.

Order no.: AVA20772VNB1CGL, 24 min. VHS and 48-page leader’s guide, 1999, $295

Response to Terrorism

Anthrax: Dispelling the Myths
Department of Defense

Program address concerns about Anthrax Inoculation Program. Covers methods of contraction, symptoms, treatment and vaccination.

Order no.: AVA20993VNB1CGL, 53 min. VHS, 1999, $70

Bacterial Threat Anthrax-Medical Management of Chemical and Biological Casualties
Department of Defense

Identify the characteristics of the Anthrax Organism that make it potentially a good Biological Weapon. Recognize the signs and symptoms of Cutaneous and Inhalation Anthrax. Identify the most likely casualty level associated with an aerosol attack with Anthrax. Recognize the drug of drugs that could be used for prophylaxis and treatment against inhalation Anthrax.

Order no.: AVA20995VNB1CGL, 55 min. VHS, 2000, $70

Biological Warfare and Terrorism: The Military and Public Health Response

U.S. Army Medical Research Institute of Infectious Diseases

Knowledge about the extensive biological weapons programs in other countries and numerous recent bioterrorism threats has increased the concern regarding the medical management of biological agent casualties on the battlefield or domestically. Military and civilian medical and public health professionals must become proficient in recognizing that a biological attack has occurred, activating the appropriate agencies and personnel to investigate the event, treating the casualties, and preventing the spread of the agent. This video tape set (developed from a satellite broadcast which originally aired September/October 1999) will inform and educate health professionals about the proper medical response in the event of an intentional biological agent release. World-renown experts from the US Army Research Institute of Infectious Diseases (USA MRID), the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and other organizations present this program.

Order no.: AVA20825VNB6CGL, 6 VHS tapes, five 256-page student guides, 5 scantron forms, one 1-page fact sheet, and 1-page cover letter, 2000, $195

Order no.: AVA20827BB00CGL, Set of 5 student manuals, 5 scantron forms, $30
Response to Terrorism

Bomb Scares and Bomb Search Procedures
John “Mike” Pickett
This program teaches firefighters and rescue personnel how to recognize improvised explosive devices and stresses their danger, that they should not be touched, and that the closest bomb disposal squad should be called to deal with them.
Order no.: AVA20651VNB1CGL, 29 min. VHS, 1999, $110

Bomb Threat
Emergency Film Group
Teaches how to develop a bomb incident plan and how to harden a site to make it less vulnerable.
Order no.: AVA20709VNB1CGL, 25 min. VHS and 28-page model procedures guide, 1999, $395

Bomb Threat Management
Federal Law Enforcement Training Center
Through the use of a full-length dramatic scenario, this program shows the increased presence of bomb threats in our society.
Order no.: AVA18912VNB1CGL, 19 min. VHS, 1990, $55

Emergency Response to Terrorism: Basic Concepts (Instructor Package)
National Fire Academy and the Department Of Justice
This course addresses the special needs of responders to incidents that may have been caused by terrorist action. Building upon the hazardous materials curriculum, it adds specialized information concerning such topics as: 1) current department of justice definitions of terrorism; 2) a history of terrorism; 3) agents utilized by terrorists; 4) suspicious circumstances; 5) self-protection at potential terrorist scenes; 6) crime scene consideration and 7) specialized incident command issues. The overall goal of this training program is to assist those who respond to the scene of a possible terrorist incident to: 1) effectively protect themselves from a variety of potential dangers; 2) effectively perform responder tasks in a situation which combines the elements of a hazardous materials incident and a crime scene; and 3) notify and respond to appropriate authorities from local, state, and federal jurisdictions.
Order no.: AVA20013SS00CGL, 246 slides, 324-page instructor guide, and 293-page student manual reproducible master. 1997, $280

Order no.: AVA20014BB00CGL, Set of 10 student manuals, $145

Incapacitating Agents-Medical Management of Chemical and Biological Casualties
Department of Defense
This program identifies the incapacitating agents. It presents information on the medical management of the chemical and biological casualties.
Order no.: AVA20999VNB1CGL, 47 min. VHS, 2000, $65

Differentiation Among Chemical, Biological and Radiological Casualties
Naval School of Health Sciences
Each CD shows interviews with different military personnel to determine cause of illness. This is student-interactive. Customer must have sound card to listen to interviews and instructions. Customer must type in a fictitious Social Security number to enter the program and show on Main Program CD.
Order no.: AVA21047CDRMCGL, 4 CD-ROMs, 2001, $130

Bomb Threat
Emergency Film Group
Teaches how to develop a bomb incident plan and how to harden a site to make it less vulnerable.
Order no.: AVA20709VNB1CGL, 25 min. VHS and 28-page model procedures guide, 1999, $395

Medical Management of Chemical and Biological Casualties Videotape Course

Army Medical Research Institute of Chemical Defense

The 6.5-day, on-site MCBC course presents the didactic material in greater detail with direct access to subject matter experts and includes a laboratory and field training exercise (FTX). This videotape course is NOT intended to replace the on-site MCBC course offered at the U.S. Army Medical Research Institute of Chemical Defense (USAMRICD) and the U.S. Army Medical Research Institute of Infectious Diseases (USAMRIID). Rather, the videotape series is designed for refresher training of Department of Defense (DOD) medical personnel and as an alternate way of obtaining the core didactic material when attendance at the on-site course is not feasible. CME/CEU are available for the videotape course until February 28, 2001.

Order no.: AVA20830V0X0CGL, Approx. 15 hrs. VHS, 2000, $350

Medical Management of Chemical and Biological Casualties: Introduction Overview of Chemical Agents

Department of Defense

Program identifies the classification of chemical warfare agents and the concepts of physical states of agents, exposure, absorption, persistence, LD 50, ID 50, CT Product, LCT50, ICT50, and ECT50. It describes the roles of primary, secondary, and tertiary prevention in the medical response to the threat or use of chemical warfare agents.

Order no.: AVA21197VNB1CGL, 69 min. VHS, 2000, $75
Order no.: AVA21084BCSPCGL, 69 min. BetacamSP, 2000, $430

Medical Management of Chemical and Biological Casualties: Cyanide

Department of Defense

This program describes the history, classification, physicochemical properties, toxicokinetics (absorption, distribution, biotransformation, and elimination), toxicodynamics (mechanism of action), pathophysiology (toxicology), and clinical efforts (including acute and long-term effects) of hydrogen cyanide and cyanogen chloride.

Order no.: AVA21199VNB1CGL, 51 min. VHS, 2000, $70
Order no.: AVA21089BCSPCGL, 51 min. BetacamSP, 2000, $320

Medical Management of Chemical and Biological Casualties: Triage and Field Management

Department of Defense

Program describes the nature and purposes of chemical-casualty triage involving potentially contaminated casualties, the site layout of the patient flow in a casualty-receiving station in a contaminated environment, the application of the asbestos method for systematically evaluating chemical-agent casualties, the methods and practice of chemical and biological agent decontamination, and specific triage guidelines for each class. In a casualty-receiving station in a contaminated environment personnel and logistical considerations for such a station, the application of the asbestos method for systematically evaluating chemical-agent casualties, the methods practice of chemical and biological agent decontamination, and specific triage guidelines for each class of chemical-warfare agent.

Order no.: AVA21200VNB1CGL, 51 min. VHS, 2000, $70
Order no.: AVA21090BCSPCGL, 51 min. BetacamSP, 2000, $320

Medical Management of Chemical and Biological Casualties: Vesicants

Department of Defense

Program describes the history, classification, physicochemical properties, toxicokinetics (absorption, distribution, biotransformation, and elimination), toxicodynamics (mechanism of action), pathophysiology (toxicology), and clinical effects (including short- and long-term effects of acute and chronic exposure) of vesicants.

Order no.: AVA21199VNB1CGL, 80 min. VHS, 2000, $80
Order no.: AVA21088BCSPCGL, 80 min. BetacamSP, 2000, $380

Response to Terrorism

Medical Management of Chemical and Biological Casualties: Viral Threat – Smallpox
Department of Defense
Program explains the risk of using smallpox as a biological agent. It recognizes the signs and symptoms of the various types of clinical smallpox and of their complications. Lists the diagnostic test available for smallpox and describes the treatment and both active and passive Immunoprophylaxis for smallpox.
Order no.: AVA21202VNB1CGL, 45 min. VHS, 2000, $65
Order no.: AVA21086BCSPCGL, 45 min. BetacamSP, 2000, $280

Medical Management of Chemical Casualties (MMCC) Supplemental Training Materials, Version 2.0 (Revised Version)
Army Medical Research Institute of Chemical Defense
This product is designed primarily for sustainment training in the medical management of chemical casualties. The additional reference materials contained on the product support the instruction material.
Order no.: AVA20829CDRMCGL, One CD-Rom, 2000, $30

Medical Response to Chemical Warfare and Terrorism, 2000
U.S. Army Medical Research Institute of Chemical Defense
This satellite broadcast video series informs and educates health care professionals and first responders serving the military and supporting civil defense and domestic preparedness programs about chemical agent exposure. It also discusses battlefield management, decontamination of casualties, and personal protective equipment. Discussions on antiterrorism are integrated throughout. The program features discussions with world-renowned scientists, researchers, clinicians, and counter-terrorism experts.
Order no.: AVA20893VNB6CGL, 12-hour VHS, 2000, $130

Nerve Agents and Pretreatment-Medical Management of Chemical and Biological Casualties
Department of Defense
Program describes the history, classification, physicochemical properties, toxicokinetics (absorption, distribution, biotransformation, and elimination), toxicodynamics (mechanism of action), pathophysiology (toxicology), and clinical effects (including acute and long-term effects) of nerve agents.
Order no.: AVA21031VNB1CGL, 85 min. VHS, 2000, $80

Pulmonary Agents-Medical Management of Chemical and Biological Casualties
Department of Defense
This film describes the history, classification, physicochemical properties, toxicokinetics (absorption, distribution, biotransformation, and elimination) toxicodynamics (mechanism of action), pathophysiology (toxicology) of pulmonary agents. It lists the clinical effects of chemical agents that act in the central and peripheral compartments of the lower respiratory tree and the clinical management casualties of these agents.
Order no.: AVA21000VNB1CGL, 52 min. VHS, 2000, $70

Response to Anthrax Threats
Emergency Film Group
Response to Anthrax Threats focuses on letters or packages that claim to contain anthrax. The program tells how to manage victims who may become contaminated and describes symptoms as well as the use of hazmat protocols, decontamination, managing evidence, protective clothing for responders and clean up.
Order no.: AVA21048VNB1CGL, 26 min. VHS and 10 wallet reference cards, 2001, $395

Riot Control Agents-Medical Management of Chemical and Biological Casualties
Department of Defense
This program describes the history, classification, physicochemical properties, toxicokinetics (absorption, distribution, biotransformation, and elimination), toxicodynamics (mechanism of action), pathophysiology, toxicology, and clinical effects of riot-control agents.
Order no.: AVA21026VNB1CGL, 28 min. VHS, 2000, $55

Surviving Anthrax

Department of Defense
Dr. Gregory Poland, MD, Chief, Mayo Vaccine Research Group at the Mayo Clinic briefs on the Anthrax Immunization and Concerns.

Order no.: AVA20994VNB1CGL, 51 min. VHS, 1999, $70

Terrorism and the Law: The USA Patriotism Act and Military Commissions

Federal Judicial Center
The events of September 11 and subsequent enactment of the U.S.A. Patriot Act to deal with terrorism present federal judges and court personnel with new issues and challenges. This program brings together a number of experts to discuss both the legislation and military commissions as a venue for trying suspected terrorists. Specific issues include surveillance under the Act; the Act's effect on immigration law; and money laundering. The use of military commissions to try suspected terrorists is also discussed.

Order no.: AVA21093VNB2CGL, 116 min. VHS and 18-page printed material, 2002, $130

Terrorism - First Response

Emergency Film Group
Covers how to recognize a terrorist attack and response protocols to follow in the event of such an attack, including preserving evidence, protective clothing, triage, and incident command and control.

Order no.: AVA20769VNB1CGL, 29 min. VHS and 52-page leader's guide, 1997, $395

Terrorism: Roll Call Edition

Emergency Film Group
This program feature eight-less than 10 minute-training segments derived from our other counter-terrorism titles. Each segment examines a timely topic related to security or terrorism response. The segments include ‘Preparing for a Terrorist Attack,’ ‘Harding the Site,’ ‘Incident Command System,’ ‘Types of Chemical Weapons,’ ‘Types of Biological Weapons,’ ‘Anthrax Decontamination & Protective Clothing.’

Order no.: AVA21083VNB1CGL, 54 min. VHS, 2002, $395

Terrorism - Biological Weapons

Emergency Film Group
Tells how to recognize and defend against acts of biological terrorism. Covers different scenarios and agents.

Order no.: AVA20770VNB1CGL, 29 min. VHS and 50-page leader’s guide, 1999, $395

Terrorism: Chemical Weapons

Emergency Film Group
Terrorism: Chemical Weapons outlines response guidelines for suspected chemical terrorist incidents. This program profiles the four classes of chemical agents as well as a description of the warning signs and indicators of a chemical attack.

Order no.: AVA21052VNB1CGL, 26 min. VHS and Leaders guide, 2000, $395

Weapons of Mass Destruction: Awareness Level

John "Mike" Pickett
This program makes the viewer aware of the terrorist threat involving nuclear, chemical and biological weapons. It describes these weapons, methods of disseminating them, symptoms of victims, actions first responders can take to protect themselves and others, and emergency decontamination and control of the scene.

Order no.: AVA20789VNB1CGL, 17 min. VHS, 1999, $125

Protecting the Back at Work
Order no.: AVA20707VNB1CGL, 12 min. VHS and 1-page handout, 1994, $115

Breathing Apparatus
Emergency Film Group
Discusses different types of breathing apparatus and their components, safety features, capabilities and limitations. Demonstrates proper use, inspection and emergency operation.
Order no.: AVA20708VNB1CGL, 30 min. VHS and 60-page leader’s guide, 1992, $295

Chemical Protective Clothing
Emergency Film Group
Shows how to select and use vapor and splash protective suits. Covers degradation; permeation; donning and doffing; signs of suit failure; heat stress; inspecting, testing and maintaining garments; EPA and NFPA requirements; and decontamination.
Order no.: AVA20710VNB1CGL, 29 min. VHS and 58-page leader’s guide, 1992, $345

Danger Zone
National Fire Academy
Senior fire officers discuss recent incidents that involved firefighter deaths, and explore the impact of these incidents on the development of their safety programs.
Order no.: AVA17301VNB1CGL, 20 min. VHS, 1988, $40

The Death of Robert Maxwell Miller
National Fire Academy
Miller, a seasonal (summer) captain for the U.S. Forest Service died at the Mack II fire on September 19, 1971. This videotape covers the reasons for his death which primarily related to health and fitness. The program will emphasize why firefighters must be healthy and physically fit. From the Firefighter Health and Safety course.
Order no.: AVA17306VNB1CGL, 30 min. VHS, 1988, $20

Firefighter Health and Safety: Program Implementation and Management (Instructor Package)
National Fire Academy
Teaches the major components of a successful health and safety program, including the steps to take, and outside resources available. Emphasizes the responsibility of the department to train employees about safety, to create as safe a work environment as possible, and to correct unsafe behavior according to established standards and policies. Covers: A positive attitude toward safety; understanding laws, standards, and regulations; developing a health and fitness program; developing resistance to stress; emergency scene safety; and safety investigation and analysis. Recommended course time: 17 hrs.
Order no.: AVA17298KK00CGL, 120 min. VHS, 360 slides, 726-page instructor guide, and 220-page student manual reproducible master, 1988, $335
Order no.: AVA17308BB00CGL, Set of 10 student manuals, $140

Firefighter Safety
National Fire Academy
This introductory videotape to the “Firefighter Safety and Survival” course shows several tragic incidents - all preventable if the firefighters or company officer had been more safety conscious. Sixteen scenes give students the opportunity to determine possible causes and safety problems and understand the types of events that are needlessly killing and injuring our firefighters today.
Order no.: AVA17300VNB1CGL, 20 min. VHS, 1988, $40
Firefighter Safety and Survival: The Company Officer’s Responsibility (Instructor’s Package)
National Fire Academy
Provides the company officer with the skills and knowledge to effectively control the first line safety of firefighters during routine and emergency operations.
Order no.: A VA17299KK00CGL, 65 min. VHS, 431 slides, 518-page instructor’s guide, and 158-page student manual reproducible master, 1988, $295

Community Resource Preservation

Flash Floods and Floods . . . The Awesome Power
National Weather Service, NOAA, American Red Cross, FEMA
This presenter's guide and slide set helps heighten public awareness and understanding of the dangers of flash floods. It describes the different types of flooding hazards, explains how flash floods occur, and teaches proper safety and preparedness measures to help save lives.
Order no.: AVA19997SS00CGL, 151 slides, 31-page presenter's guide, 1997, $120

Principles of Building Construction: Combustible
National Fire Academy
The overall goal of this course is to provide knowledge about the classification system of buildings, the importance of fire resistance for structural support elements, and the risks associated with performing fire-suppression activities inside and around buildings involved in fire. One additional major goal of this course is to enhance the skills of emergency response personnel so that they can read a building correctly and apply the information to the action plan for the incident. This program consists of three CD's; the first disk contains the pages of the Student Manual and Instructor Guide. Each of the unit modes are noted as separate folders. The second disk contains the course slides and video in a Power Point Presentation. The third disk contains the course slides in a format suitable for making 35 mm slide reproductions.
Order no.: AVA20896CDRMCGL, 3 CD-ROMs, 1999, $30

Principles of Building Construction: Noncombustible
National Fire Academy
The overall goal of this course is to provide knowledge about the classification system of buildings, the importance of fire resistance for structural support elements, and the risks associated with performing fire-suppression activities inside and around buildings involved in fire. One additional major goal of this course is to enhance the skills of emergency response personnel to 'read' a building's construction and to apply the information to the action plan for the incident.

Specialized Fire Service Fields

Airport Firefighting

Fire Safety in Air Traffic Control Towers
Federal Aviation Administration
Covers how to recognize Air Traffic Control Tower fire safety issues, conditions that endanger their staff, fire protection modifications, and emergency response procedures and plans, including special procedures to ensure the safety of flying aircraft.
Order no.: AVA20244VNB1CGL, 12 min. VHS, 2-page participants’ guide and 2-page supervisor’s guide, 1995, $55

Implementing Occupant Emergency Plans in ATCT’s
Federal Aviation Administration
Explains how to create and update written plans and procedures for emergency response in air traffic control towers. Covers preventive structure and occupant analysis and designation of responsible persons; planning whom to call, how to get out, where to go, accounting for everyone, and critical operation shutdown during an emergency; and post emergency analysis.
Order no.: AVA20246VNB1CGL, 10 min. VHS, 1996, $40

Aircraft Rescue and Fire Fighting Computer-Based Training
Federal Aviation Administration
Relates basic aircraft rescue firefighting principles and reinforces their skills for operating the rescue and firefighting equipment available at a local airport.
Order no.: AVA21172CDRMCGL, 3 CDs, 2002, $150

Wildland/Urban Interface

Fire Weather
National Park Service
This is a remake of a film that was produced 25 years ago. First time wildland firefighters will be shown the effect weather can have on behavior of a fire. They will learn about winds, both general and local, moisture, both relative humidity and fuel moisture and stability.
Order no.: AVA19002VNB1CGL, 39 min. VHS, 1992, $60

Introduction to Wildland and Wildland/Urban Interface Firefighting for the Structural Company Officer (Instructor Package)
National Fire Academy
Identifies operational activities and safety concerns for Company Officers assigned to a wildland or wildland/urban interface fire. Topics covered are: Introduction to wildland and wildland/urban interface firefighting, wildland and wildland/urban interface environment, wildland fire behavior, command and control issues of wildland/urban interface firefighting and tactics.
